The McKenzie Family History

The McKenzie Family has been in the Funeral Profession since 1946 with Don McKenzie working at several funeral homes in Vancouver & West Vancouver. Don met & married Jessie in 1948 and in 1968 they were given the opportunity to purchase Hollyburn Funeral Home in West Vancouver from the “Walsh“ family. As in true family funeral home tradition, Don & Jessie started George (their eldest son) working at Hollyburn at the age of 14 answering phones and helping his Dad on services. George then went on to B.C.I.T. where he received his Diploma & License as a Funeral Director & Licensed Embalmer and received the "Professionalism Award" for his class year.

In 1988 George & Mildred bought Squamish Funeral Chapel & installed their own Crematorium to service both Hollyburn and the Sea to Sky Corridor. Unfortunately In 1995 after the passing of Don & Jessie, Hollyburn was sold to a Corporation in Houston, Texas.

Mildred & George continued to serve families on the North Shore and after several requests from families and clergy, decided to open an office back in West Vancouver, McKenzie Funeral Services. They have brought their own special personalized service back to the North Shore and Lower Mainland. They believe a funeral is similar to other ceremonies in our lives. Like a graduation ceremony, a wedding, or baptism a funeral is a rite of passage by which we recognize an important event that distinguishes our lives.

You can often hear them saying:

“No two people are alike,
so no two funerals should be the same”

In recent years, we’ve gathered together a staff of highly qualified and deeply caring individuals to assist us in continuing the funeral home’s mission of providing excellence in service to families in their time of need.

Our reputation for providing the highest quality of service grew, and today we are privileged to serve hundreds of families each year.

The McKenzie Difference

Serving families since 1946, we the McKenzie Family want to be there for families as if they were a part of our family. Unlike other Funeral Homes, we want you to get to know who we are and how we can help.

Meet our staff and understand their roles, from our funeral director's & owners, George & Mildred McKenzie, to their son Mark McKenzie and son-in-law Geoff Fahlman. Death is a personal matter, see how we can serve you personally with meeting your needs.

Here are some ways in how we are different:

- Available 24/7: You will always speak to a member of our family.
- Loved Ones will always come to our Funeral Home: Not a warehouse.
- Our Personalized Services: As a funeral director we not only provide services for cremation and burial we also provide catering services, video tributes, personalized stationary, engraving services and more.
- Celebrations of Life: We have been planning these lasting services for the past two decades. Our staff can create a vibrant atmosphere to honour your loved one the way you and your family would be proud of.
- Community Resource & Outreach: As your neighbour, we want the best for you and our community. Our goal is to help you with your path after losing a loved one. We offer resources for grief, bereavement, legal and estate planning.
